

Clinical Investigation Report

A controlled clinical study assessing the efficacy and tolerance of the test product under dermatological investigation. The investigator recorded clinical outcomes at baseline and after treatment using instrumental measurement and grader assessment. No serious adverse event was reported; safety and clinical endpoints were met with statistical significance.